Item 1.02. Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement.

On January 4, 2018, Versartis, Inc. (the “Company”) received notice from Teijin Limited (“Teijin”) that Teijin was, pursuant to the agreement’s terms, terminating the Exclusive License and Supply Agreement among the Company, Versartis GmbH, a subsidiary of the Company, and Teijin, dated August 5, 2016 (the “License Agreement”), effective as of January 31, 2018. The notice of termination followed discussions between the Company and Teijin regarding the failure of the Company’s Phase 3 VELOCITY trial to meet its primary endpoint during which the Company and Teijin determined that continuing with the License Agreement was no longer in the best interests of either party.

Under the License Agreement, the Company had granted to Teijin an exclusive license to develop, use, sell, offer for sale, import and otherwise commercialize, in Japan, any pharmaceutical product incorporating somavaratan (VRS-317). In exchange for such rights, the Company received an upfront payment of $40 million from Teijin, and could potentially have also received up to $125 million in development, regulatory and sales milestone payments, in addition to transfer pricing and a royalty calculated on net sales in Japan. The termination is not associated with any early termination penalty or any further payments by either party.
